

The U.S. Census Bureau estimates
330 people turn 60 EVERY hour.

In 2005, the U.S. Census Bureau reported over 110 million Americans are 45-85 years young. Are you ready?

At present in the USA, hormone deficiencies, imbalance and abnormalities affect approximately 55 million women.

50,000 women a day enter menopause.
2,500 women a day enter perimenopause.

80% of women complain of some type of PMS symptom.

There are millions of men and women with hormone deficiency symptoms.
They want practical solutions.

Will you be there to help them?

By the time men are between the ages of 40
and 55, they may start experiencing symptoms of Andropause.

The average 60-year-old male has more circulating estrogen in his blood stream than the average 60-year-old female.

13 million men have symptoms of low testosterone levels and only 5-10% of these men will seek treatment.

Patient Benefits: BHRT & Health

The patient demand for practitioners offering BHRT services is greater than ever in U.S. due to an increase in public access to information, and an increased awareness of the importance of health and wellness.

An individualized approach to hormone replacement therapy, using biologically identical hormones (BHRT), pinpoints a person's exact hormone levels, what hormones are needed to balance their hormone deficiency, and allows for personalized patient health and wellness programs.

Getting BHRT Services Started In Your Practice:

College Pharmacy's Professional BHRT Support Program has been developed to provide healthcare practitioners with the extra services needed to successfully implement BHRT into a clinical setting.

As one of the first state-of-the-art and comprehensive compounding pharmacies to work extensively with BHRT practitioners, we know that it takes a lot of time and training to learn the intricate details of prescribing BHRT.

Implementing BHRT into a clinical practice can be a time consuming project: understanding the hormones and the dosage forms, learning to interpret lab results, prescribing the hormones, developing evaluation forms, providing staff education and patient resources, handling patient questions...it can seem like a daunting project. College Pharmacy can help!

When you have patients come to you looking for BHRT information and services, College Pharmacy will help you give them the answers and resources they need.

Practice Solutions

I already offer BHRT services, but would like to expand my practice and programs.

We have a variety of resources that you will find useful in giving your existing BHRT program a little remodel. Whether you are interested in receiving training on Fused Pellet Insertion, or just want to take a refresher course on dosing and dosage forms, we have many resources that will provide you with the tools that you need.

May We Suggest You Request: Beyond Basic BHRT Training CD, BHRT Consultation Guide, Fused Pellet Insertion DVD, A - Z BHRT Prescribing Guide. Please call to talk to your personal account manager or a BHRT pharmacist to discuss additional resources and opportunities.

I would like to offer BHRT services, but don't have the training or resources to implement it into my practice.

College Pharmacy has been assisting healthcare practitioners in providing BHRT services to their patients for over a decade through our "Triad" Hormone Consult program.

How It Works: Available to both men and women, College Pharmacy offers complimentary personal hormone consultation services to assist patients and practitioners in individualizing BHRT. We receive the lab work, we schedule a meeting or phone call with the patient after analyzing the lab results, working with the patient's practitioner we make a BHRT recommendation. Upon approval of the BHRT recommendation, and upon receipt of a prescription, we compound the patient's BHRT medication. This program has benefited healthcare practitioners who are new to BHRT or need additional staff to fully implement a BHRT program into their clinical practice.
